

Living Cost Up Slightly

No Signs of Inflation Are Indicated In Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—The cost of living edged up one-tenth of one per cent in October, the Labor Department said today. Prices increased all along the line except for food, gasoline and household appliances.

The consumer price index, announced by the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, reached 108.5 per cent of its 1957-59 average. This was 1.2 per cent above October 1963.

Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the bureau, said the increase was "within the range that the index has moved in recent years. It shows no sign of the inflation which some people have been talking about.

Labor disturbances in the automobile industry depressed the average take-home pay of factory production workers in October.

Net spendable earnings, or pay after deduction of federal income and Social Security taxes, dropped 80 cents compared with September to $92.18 for the average factory workers with three dependents.

The bureau said the drop was due to reduced employment, hours and earnings in the strike-hit automobile and related high-wage industries.

Even with the drop from September, October take-home pay was nearly $4 over the average for October of last year.

Transportation costs showed the largest increase in October. They were up five-tenths of one per cent, primarily due to the changeover in automobile models with dealers offering smaller concessions on 1965 models than they had the previous month when they were closing out their stocks of 1964 models.

However, new car prices were down 1.7 per cent from October 1963 levels.

Chase said the cost-of-living index for November probably would show a further rise when it is compiled. He said used car prices normally increase at this time of year and he expects the index to reflect an increase in food prices in November.

Each time the consumer price index increases it sets a new record.

Churchill Marks 90th Birthday

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill climbed out of bed on his 90th birthday today, creaky of limb but sound of health.

"He's very well," said Sir Winston's doctor and long personal friend, Lord Moran, "and I can tell you something else—he still enjoys his daily cigar."

Lord Moran, 81, could have added that Britain's wartime leader still enjoys his daily brandy.

Sir Winston got up shortly before noon. Assisted by a male nurse—for he is very feeble—he dressed slowly and went downstairs at his London home to be greeted by his household.

Earlier, Lady Churchill, 79, greeted him with a birthday kiss and the light breakfast which her husband always enjoys with the newspapers in bed.

Sir Winston faced the avalanche of messages and gifts that poured in from all over the world. A message from Queen Elizabeth II was given to him first.

There were also messages from President Johnson and ex-presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman.

Britain's Post Office Department estimated Sir Winston would receive a minimum of 60,000 greetings before the end of the day.

A heavy cake with the words "Happy Birthday" on it was wheeled into the Churchill residence this morning.

"What's Sir Winston doing?" replied a secretary in response to a question from one of the reporters outside his home.

"Why he's trying to spend the day quietly—looking forward to this evening."

That meant a birthday dinner with members of the family.

Caution Dog Owners On Pets Wandering Throughout City

Assistant Chief of Police Charles Knapp said today that police are receiving a large number of complaints about wandering dogs—especially in the early morning hours—and cautioned dog owners to restrain their pets in accordance with city ordinance.

Knapp said most of the complaints seem to stem from dogs being turned loose early in the morning for a run and then being allowed to roam the neighborhood. The city poundmaster is investigating as many of these cases as possible.

The complaints about dogs comes at an unusual time of the year, Knapp pointed out. Normally garden planting season is the trouble period.

New Record Holiday Toll

Rain, Snow Add Danger To Nation's Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents on the nation's streets and highways killed a record 550 persons during the four-day Thanksgiving Holiday.

The figure topped last year's Thanksgiving mark of 543 deaths which had been the record since annual counts for the holiday began in 1958.

Driving on most of the country's roads and highways was endangered as rain and snow pelted the northern half of the continent Sunday. Hazardous driving warnings were issued for many states by the weather Bureau.

The pace of fatal accidents increased somewhat in the waning hours of the holiday, as weary motorists hurried to return to their homes. The death toll was boosted by many multiple death accidents, including one in which eight persons were killed Thanksgiving Day in South Carolina.

The traffic death toll since 6 p.m. local time Wednesday was 535. The 102-hour holiday ended at midnight Sunday.

The National Safety Council statistics show the average daily traffic death total was 126 in the first nine months of 1964.

The council keeps records of the number of deaths on certain weekend holidays, but does not do so for the Thanksgiving weekend because, it says, the holiday period does not involve much extra driving.

For a comparative purpose, The Associated Press surveyed the number of deaths for a non-holiday weekend of 102 hours, Nov. 11 to Nov. 15. A total of 493 traffic fatalities were reported.

In the last few days, several planes have been unable to land in Stanleyville because of rebel ground fire. Belgians who returned from Stanleyville Sunday night said the region between the airport and the center of the city about two miles away was heavily infiltrated by rebel snipers.

Beyond the airport, the rebels are in almost full control. The airport is guarded by Congolese soldiers who took over when Belgian paratroopers were withdrawn Sunday after rescuing 1,700 foreigners from the rebels.

With the departure of the Belgian paratroopers, fears mounted for the safety of 500 to 1,000 whites still in the rebel-held areas of the northern Congo.

Refugees said the Peking-backed rebels were intent on killing all whites to vent their anger over the paratroop action in Stanleyville and Paulis last week.

The confirmed death toll of white hostages stood at 85, including three American missionaries. Many were slaughtered only minutes before the Belgians arrived.

One was Vladimir Sloboda, a native of the Ukraine, who is now 37. The other was Joseph Dutkanicz, a native of Poland who died a year ago today at the age of 37.

Their defection was mentioned two months ago in the Warren Commission's report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

In discussing Soviet defection procedures—Lee Harvey Oswald, Kennedy's assassin, had defected to the Soviet Union after leaving the U.S. Marine Corps—the commission report quoted the Central Intelligence Agency:

"Two defectors from U.S. Army intelligence units in West Germany appeared to have been given citizenship immediately, but both had prior KGB (Russian secret police) connections and fled as a result of Army security checks."

In Bid to Flee Congo

Crash Kills Refugees

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A chartered Belgian DC4 crashed on the runway of Stanleyville airport Sunday night, killing the crew and all but seven of the refugees it was bringing to safety, reports to Leopoldville said.

A message reaching Leopoldville this morning said the plane "got fire on taking off." It was not clear whether this meant that the plane had been hit by rebel riflemen who still infest the region around the airport at Stanleyville.

An employee of the charter company, Belgian International Air Services, said the DC4 had a crew of three Belgians. It was not known how many passengers were aboard.

An official of the company in Antwerp, Belgium, said the plane was believed to have carried 40 passengers.

An investigating team was flying to Stanleyville this morning.

Most of the plane's passengers were reported to be Congolese refugees from the former rebel capital.

In the last few days, several planes have been unable to land in Stanleyville because of rebel ground fire. Belgians who returned from Stanleyville Sunday night said the region between the airport and the center of the city about two miles away was heavily infiltrated by rebel snipers.

Speeds Toward Mars

Mariner Locks Onto Right Star

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Spacecraft Mariner 4 finally found its guiding star today, and scientists said it was using the star to speed on toward an appointment with Mars.

Officials at Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena said that the second radio command sent to the craft today resulted in its finding Canopus—the bright orb it needs to hold it on course through a 7½-month, 325-million-mile voyage.

A first command sent at 1:13 a.m. made the craft lock on an object which data later revealed was not Canopus, scientists reported.

The second command was sent at 2:57 a.m., starting the craft rolling over in space, scanning the heavens for Canopus. Three minutes later it locked on a star.

Scientists said the data it then radioed back was analyzed, proving it locked on Canopus and not some other star.

They said two sensors are carried on the craft. When one of them is locked on Canopus, the other should be pointed toward earth. They said information received from the earth sensor indicated that it was indeed pointing toward earth.

At the time Mariner locked on Canopus it was 359,850 miles from earth and was traveling at 7,400 miles an hour, scientists said.

The first try early Sunday failed.

Twice in the first day's search it fixed on stars it thought were Canopus. Each time it had hitched itself onto the wrong star.

Mariner needs the fix to keep it flying through space without tumbling into positions where its radio equipment won't function properly.

It also needs the fix on Canopus for a crucial midcourse maneuver.

When Mariner 4 was rocketed into orbit Saturday from Cape Kennedy, Fla., it was aimed on a course which would take it on a 7½-month, 325-million-mile journey to within perhaps 150,000 miles of Mars.

For Mariner's key assignment—taking television pictures to unravel some of the red-fueled planet's many secrets—the spacecraft must make a fly-by at 8,000 to 10,000 miles.

A Rutledge, Mo., youth, 19-year-old Darrell Lee McReynolds, was killed Saturday night in a one-car accident on Route 6, one mile east of Lewistown.

A Lesterville, Mo., driver, Herbert Floyd Cole, 60, died in an Ironton, Mo., hospital Saturday of injuries suffered in a truck collision Friday on highway 21 six miles south of Ironton.

The highway patrol said that a truck driven by Cole and one driven by Beverly Marie Johnson, 25, of Des Arc, Mo., collided on a bridge. Miss Johnson was not seriously hurt.

An Iowan, Kermit Boeke, 56, of Hubbard, was fatally injured in an accident on U.S. 69 three miles south of Cameron. The crash occurred Friday and Boeke died in a St. Joseph hospital Saturday afternoon.

Reds Reject UN Formula

To Delay Vote Showdown Between US, Soviets

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union today rejected a compromise formula put forward by Secretary-General U Thant in the hope of avoiding a U.S.-Soviet confrontation on U.N. financing.

Word of the Soviet decision came shortly after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko met Secretary of State Dean Rusk for a luncheon discussion of this and other problems before the U.N. Assembly.

Thant proposed to the four big powers last week that they agree to postpone all important matters until after the first of the year so that there would be no occasion to question the voting rights of the Soviet Union. The United States and others contend that the Russians cannot vote because of their back debts.

Shortly before the Rusk-Gromyko luncheon session, Thant met separately with the American secretary of state and the Soviet ambassador to the U.N., Nikolai T. Fedorenko.

Thant urged agreement to his plan, which would avoid forcing the critical financial issue at the Assembly's opening by letting the Assembly proceed with routine matters while backstage negotiations tackle the money question.

Then the foreign minister of the United Arab Republic, Mahmoud Riad, called on Rusk to express his concern over the prospective showdown.

Mahmoud told newsmen after seeing Rusk that the U.A.R. sees the financial fight as an important political issue. And while the United Nations "needs the money to be effective," he said, it would be weakened without collecting funds if "certain powers are deprived of their vote."

The U.A.R. envoy was expressing views similar to many of the smaller, neutralist nations at the United Nations on the prospect of applying the U.N. Charter's Article 19 at the start of the Assembly's session.

Under Article 19 the Soviets stand to lose their vote in the General Assembly because they have fallen more than two years behind in their dues. That is because the Kremlin has refused to pay more than $52 million for U.N. peacekeeping operations in the Congo and the Middle East.

Viet Appeal For Support To End Riots

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Tran Van Huong appealed Sunday night for public support after paratroopers crushed another Buddhist demonstration against his month-old government.

Huong in a broadcast called on the people to help put down street demonstrations which he said were inspired by the Communists. He said his government would not permit Communist troublemakers to operate in Saigon.

Brig. Gen. Pham Van Dong, Saigon's military governor, charged in a communique that the Viet Cong definitely had been involved Sunday in the funeral procession for a Buddhist youth that turned into an anti-government demonstration. Police arrested 89 persons and said one of them had Viet Cong connections.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A Cuban girl jumped from a Havana-bound cargo ship into the Atlantic Sunday "because I would have chosen death rather than return to Cuba."

She was picked up almost immediately by the Coast Guard.

Frail, blonde Ana Olga Capetany, 19, said "it was a spur of the moment decision." She said she saw a Coast Guard cutter and decided to jump while help was nearby.

The cutter was observing the vessel, Fundador, en route from Montreal to Havana.

The girl asked for political asylum and was turned over to immigration authorities.

Grim Look At Medicare From AMA

Call to Doctors To Rally Against Plans Passage

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The president of the American Medical Association took a grim look today at the new congressional odds on passage of medicare and called on the nation's doctors to rally against it.

"The possibility that a federal health care program financed from increased Social Security taxes will be rejected is considerably less than it was a few weeks ago," said Dr. Donovan F. Ward.

"But even as I am not going to promote any ill-founded optimism, neither am I carelessly going to spread gloom and doom in this chamber," he told the AMA's legislative body, the House of Delegates.

He said the Johnson administration had won a margin of control of both houses of Congress unequaled since President Franklin D. Roosevelt's re-election in 1936.

Yet, in past years, when Democratic majorities existed, medicare proposals were defeated, Donovan said.

New Initials Kicking Up Controversy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new set of initials—MLF—is kicking up a controversy in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

MLF stands for multilateral force. It is a new concept in the handling of nuclear weapons, developed and pushed by the United States. Essentially, it is a way of permitting the United States' allies partial participation in the control of the nuclear deterrent.

To help understand what the fight is all about, here are some basic questions and answers about MLF:

Q. What is MLF?

A. It is a proposal for a separate force of surface ships, such as frigates, to be equipped with Polaris missiles with nuclear tips. The crews would be an international mixture from the participating nations. There would be 25 ships. A destroyer, the USS Ricketts, has been manned by a mixed crew recently to demonstrate how this can be done.

Q. Who would control them?

A. There would be an MLF commander, separate from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization command, which would retain its own forces. But in time of war, MLF would be an arm of NATO. Control of the weapons would be multinational, rather than in the hands of any one country. The United States alone could not decide to use them. Neither could any other one country.

Disabled Man Kills Two, Wounds Two

TOPEKA (AP) — A disabled construction worker took his own life after killing two persons and wounding two others in a family quarrel over custody of his two children Saturday night.

Police said Joe Ullman, 39, of Burlingame, Kan., used only six shots with his seven-shot .25 caliber pistol.

Killed with bullets in the head were Ullman's former wife, Betty, 32, and her brother, Larry Dick, 18.

Another brother, Edgar Dick Jr., 22, at whose home the shooting occurred, was shot in the abdomen as he dived out a window. His wife, Phyllis, 22, was wounded in the neck and ran outside screaming for help.

Edgar Dick is in serious condition and Mrs. Dick in fair condition.

Four children were in the house but escaped injury.

Ullman, former Topeka construction worker, could walk only with the aid of two canes after his legs were partially paralyzed by a crane that fell on him in 1958.

Mrs. Ullman obtained a divorce two months ago and was awarded custody of their two children, Debbie, 5, and Michael, 4. After living in Wichita for a time, she returned to Topeka Friday and was staying at Edgar Dick's home.

Detective James Freel quoted relatives as saying Ullman was invited to visit the children Saturday. Also in the home were Judy Faler, 11, Mrs. Ullman's daughter by a previous marriage, and a niece, Jana Hitchcock, 4.

Freel said he was told Ullman was in a good mood on arrival, but an argument over the children erupted and he started shooting.

China Looms As Shadow On UN Meeting

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The specter of Red China bulks big over the U.N. General Assembly opening Tuesday. Communist China's new role as a nuclear power, the question of its right to China's seat in the assembly and to the Security Council veto, its threat of domination in Southeast Asia, its infiltration in Europe, Africa, the Middle East and Latin America — all these things will color the debates of the 115 nations almost from the opening through 15 weeks until the scheduled end March 5.

Nationalist China, with strong U.S. support, has managed to hold the China seat despite a mounting demand for Red China representation over the years.

Condemned for the part it played against U.N. forces in the Korean War, Red China has been thrust back year after year with the slogan that it must not be allowed to shoot its way into the United Nations.

This year it has a nuclear weapon, the device it exploded early this fall, and its supporters are saying no universal disarmament program can be effective unless the Chinese Communists are represented in the U.N. debates on disarmament and in the U.N.-sponsored Disarmament Committee of 18.

This argument has been added to the previous contention that a nation of 650 million or more — one-quarter of the world's population — must be heard in U.N. discussions.

Secretary-General U Thant has used those arguments. Britain has voted for Red China's seating. France this year recognized the Peking government and is expected to swing strongly in favor of a move by seven nations to make the seating question a major issue for debate in the full assembly.

The United States still voices confidence it can head off the drive, but U.N. diplomats feel this may be the last year the Chinese Reds can be stopped.

The assembly opens Tuesday with its present complement of 112 members on the customary note of silent prayer or meditation for one minute.

The shell, picked up at the site of old Camp Barkley 28 miles south of this West Texas city, detonated when it was accidentally dropped.

Salvador Hernandez of Wingo and Jess Rodriguez, 14, of Knox City died.

Jesse Hernandez, 32, an uncle of Salvador Hernandez, lost his right arm and both legs. Joe Rodriguez, 14, twin brother of the youth, also was injured.

Route B. The driver was Doyle Ray Collins, 18, also of Twin Bridges.

The other fatalities were reported earlier.

Both cars were westbound.

Police said a pipe-cutter was used to remove the meter heads from the posts.

The case of Margaret Bradley, 723 North Grand, charged with violation of the city curfew ordinance by permitting a juvenile to be out past midnight, was dismissed.

The case of Donald W. Baker, 11th and Leone, charged with violation of the city electrical ordinance, was continued to Dec. 10.

The case of Frank Williams, Jr., 609 West Pettis, charged with assault on complaint of Ollie Whitely, was dismissed.

Circuit Court

A Sedalian has filed a petition in Cole County Circuit Court at Jefferson City accusing some 75 persons including the late President John F. Kennedy and the Veterans Administration of denying his civil rights of equal protection under the law and of conspiracy to mistreat him.

John L. Reed, 421 East Fifth, had sought to file the petition in Circuit Court here some months ago, but the suit was rejected on a question of jurisdiction.

Among those named in Reed's petition are FBI director J. Edgar Hoover, Gov. John M. Dalton, former U.S. Atty. General Robert F. Kennedy, several federal judges, the mayor of St. Louis, St. Louis police officers, FBI agents, Cole County Prosecuting Attorney James T. Riley and members of the Missouri Supreme Court.

Reed claims he was mistreated and held a prisoner in the Veterans Hospital in St. Louis and that he was forced to return to the hospital by St. Louis County police after he had been given a release.

The statement also says that personnel of the hospital tried to provoke an attack by Reed so that the hospital could hold him as a mental patient.

In other claims, Reed says he has been threatened several times including once in Cole County and was refused protection of the law. His petition says that letters of appeal for help to the late President Kennedy and several high ranking officials went unanswered.

Reed accuses federal judges including Judge Floyd R. Gibson of mishandling actions that he filed and others that were submitted for filing.

He asks $1,000,000 actual damages and $9,000,000 punitive damages and court costs. The petition was filed Friday in Jefferson City.

James S. Hanning seeks a judgment of $18,500 in a damage petition filed Friday in Circuit Court against Floyd Nelson Wyatt, Houma, La.

Hanning charges Wyatt was negligent in connection with an accident involving their autos on June 4, 1964, on north Highway 65 at a point 1 1/2 miles north of the D & J junction. The amount sought is for alleged personal injury and damage to the Hanning auto.

Magistrate Court

Otis Harris, 119 North Broadway, pleaded guilty in Magistrate Court Monday morning to a charge of driving without an operator's license and was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail.

Harris had been arrested during the State Fair by Trooper K. E. Pyle, of Fulton, with the Highway Patrol contingent at the fairgrounds. The defendant failed to appear in court as scheduled Aug. 31 and was not returned until last Wednesday when the Bradshaw Bonding Company brought him back to Sedalia after jumping bond on a charge pending in Circuit Court.

Harris had pleaded innocent to driving with no operator's license at his arraignment, but after the out-of-town trooper was subpoenaed here he decided to enter a guilty plea. He remains in jail in lieu of $5,000 bond on the charge of selling liquor without a state license pending in Circuit Court.

Two Escapees From Salem Are Captured

FREDERICKTOWN, Mo. (AP)—Police arrested two men, who escaped from the Salem, Mo. jail Sunday, at a barn in northwestern Madison County, Mo., today.

Missouri Highway Patrol troopers and deputy sheriffs from Madison and St. Francois counties surrounded the barn. Then, the patrol airplane, via a loudspeaker, told the two jail escapees to surrender. They did without resistance.

Officers had searched for the men in bitter cold weather since early this morning when they abandoned a stolen car after a chase by patrol trooper Mendell Clark.

Arrested were Elzie Eugene Copeland, 19, of Salem and Raymond Warren, 22, of Ironton, Mo.

all the contents, and Mrs. Phillips was badly burned about the face, arms and head, last Tuesday morning. Something had broken on the gas line and as Mrs. Phillips lighted a match the gas ignited.

Mr. Phillips was away from home at the time but just about the time of the explosion two neighbors drove in to see about buying some tractors, and got Mrs. Phillips out of the house.

When the explosion occurred Mrs. Phillips had put her arm up over her eyes, and that apparently saved one of her eyes but she has no vision in the other at the present time.

When they resided in Sedalia Mr. Phillips was with the L. B. Price Co.

Mr. Phillips is an uncle of Mrs. Oma Cox, 1002 East Fifth, who with Mr. Cox, and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Merritt of Versailles, went to Dora after hearing of the accident and returned home this weekend.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are having a heated argument and neither of us will give an inch. Can you settle it? I am becoming increasingly distressed about the indifference of our society to brutality and death. Fourteen and 15-year-olds bludgeon innocent victims with pieces of pipe. When questioned they say they don't know why they did it. In some instances the murdered didn't even know his victim.

Heartbroken and bewildered parents report, "He was always a good child." Teachers add, "He was the sort of boy who never caused any trouble."

What is happening? I say the daily diet of killing on TV compounded by the use of guns as toys makes murder commonplace. Children are confused. Values are blurred. They don't know when the game ends and real killing begins.

My husband wants to buy our five and seven-year-old sons toy guns, chaps, and cowboy hats for Christmas. I say "NO GUNS." He says guns are a part of a boy's growing up and that I am some kind of a nut to deprive our sons of boyhood fun.

What do you say, Ann Landers?—BATTLING FOR SANITY.

Dear Battling: I'm with you but I don't buy the theory that toy guns and TV will make killers out of healthy, normal children. The trouble goes back much further. I do agree that constructive TV shows and creative toys are infinitely better for children and I would not buy a toy gun for a child.

The American Friends Service Committee (Quakers) distributed an essay which echoes, faithfully, my sentiments:

Violence is abroad in our land.

Dogs are turned on humans—

Murder is with us in the headlines and TV.

Homes are bombed in the North.

Children in church are killed in the South.

We rely on weapons of annihilation to secure our "way of life."

Violence is so commonplace in our lives that we hardly notice it—

Until finally, our young and vital President is killed

By an assassin's bullet

Setting off a chain of even more violence.

Peek Into Amazing Future

So now we are embarked on building "The Great Society."

What that society should be like on the inside, as far as its guiding philosophy and basic ideals are concerned, is still a matter of debate. But we already have a pretty good indication of what the outside will be like—the man-controlled physical environment in which our children and grandchildren will live.

It will be a world which men will more and more have the power to make over according to their desires.

An impressive picture of human society at the beginning of the 21st century was recently drawn by Dr. George L. Haller, vice president in charge of advanced technology services for General Electric.

"By the end of the century, starvation will be obsolete," he said. "Not only will we produce more food than we consume all over the world, but we should be well on the way to creating synthetic foods, independent of the soil."

The human lifespan will continue to lengthen as we learn more about the aging process and perfect artificial organs to replace worn-out ones. We will also have unraveled the genetic code passed from parents to offspring and may be able to prevent some inherited diseases.

Other advances Haller foresees by 2000 A.D.:

- The oceans will be mined for minerals, and we may even be putting together all kinds of materials from air, water and common elements in the earth's crust.

- Relay satellites and laser beams will make it possible to communicate with anyone, anywhere, anytime. Individuals will have miniature television transceivers to see and talk with one another over personal channels.

- The physical frontiers will be deep within the earth and far out in space. Exploration of the moon and nearer planets will be well under way.

- Our vehicles will be powered by nuclear energy and fuel cells. No points on earth will be more than a few hours apart.

- Ordinary people will have access to computers as they now have to electric power. The "information revolution" will have multiplied man's capacity for problem-solving and creative thinking by a thousand times.

Whether or not such a society will deserve the adjective "great," however, depends upon whether men can keep up with this dizzying technological progress, which is moving faster and faster and effecting every port of life, including personal values. Says Haller:

"Trying to 'make sense' of change will be our highest task."

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Ordaz For 'Great Society' in Mexico

(Editor's Note: Jack Anderson, substituting for Drew Pearson, is now attending the inauguration of the new President of Mexico.)

By JACK ANDERSON

MEXICO CITY — Amid the hoopla of a Mardi Gras, the ceremonial red-white-and-green sash of the Mexican Presidency this week will be draped over the shoulder of Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, a slender, sallow man with a long nose, who is able to smile at his own looks.

With Lincoln-like humor, he recently quipped: "My opponents say I am two-faced. But if I had two faces, I would certainly be wearing the other."

The inauguration of President Diaz Ordaz will be the signal for Mexico's sandaled and sombreroed peons to fill the air with confetti, balloons, and fireworks. For he is the candidate of the revolution, the champion of the downtrodden, the choice of the masses.

His campaign literature would have them believe he was born in an adobe hut, the Mexican equivalent of a log cabin. But it would be more accurate to describe him as the produce of Mexico's mushrooming middle class.

The lawyer son of a government accountant, Diaz Ordaz has inherited the leadership of the 1910 revolution which overthrew the landed aristocracy. But he is more the leader of a new, economic revolution that is changing Mexico from the land of "manana" to a nation of automobiles and appliances, sold on the installment plan.

Shoes and Shirts

It is said here that a Mexican enters the middle class when he puts on shoes and buys a second shirt. Diaz Ordaz means to spread more shoes and shirts among the people. He hopes to introduce his own Latin version of the "Great Society."

His predecessors have already broken up the big estates and distributed the land to the peons. Indeed, a generous 125,000,000 acres have been parceled out, though only 72,000,000 acres are considered tillable.

"We have merely been distributing misery," says the new President. "Land reform that is not productive is not land reform at all."

He intends to introduce irrigation projects and modern farming methods to Mexico's brown and barren acres. He also would like to wipe out the rat-ridden shantytowns, which can be found even on the edges of beautiful, modern Mexico City.

For despite the lip service paid to the 50-year-old revolution, 2 per cent of the population still own almost half of the private wealth, and most Mexicans still have trouble scrounging enough to eat.

Ordaz and LBJ

President Diaz Ordaz's dream of a great society isn't his only trait in common with the tall Texan he visited last month at the LBJ Ranch.

Like President Johnson, Diaz Ordaz is a homespun politician who loves to surge through a straw-hatted crowd, shaking hands, patting youngsters on the head, and preaching political platitudes in the best LBJ style.

Like Lyndon Johnson, the President of Mexico also tries to bring all factions under his political tent. This is the purpose and program of his party of revolutionary institutions, known less formally throughout Mexico as P.R.I. or simply "Pree."

Indeed, long before Diaz Ordaz came to power, the P.R.I. had succeeded in crowding most Mexicans under the same big top. The labor unions, peasant organizations, trade associations — ranging from the socialists on the left to the conservative businessmen on the right — have found shelter in the P.R.I.

As a result, it has become a party of consensus, ruled by the moderates who hold close to the middle, not unlike the Democratic party that emerged during the recent American election.

The all-embracing P.R.I. has managed to hold Mexico's diverse factions together by skillful political maneuvering — a speech to cheer the left wing, a promise to placate the right wing, a compromise acceptable to both — much in the manner of Lyndon B. Johnson.

Result: Over the years, the P.R.I. has gained almost total domination over Mexican politics and the support of over 80 per cent of the electorate.

Politics Calms Down

Diaz Ordaz was a compromise candidate for President, chosen by party chieftains in the smoke-filled back rooms of the P.R.I. He had an opponent in last July's election, Jose Gonzalez Torres, who, like Sen. Barry Goldwater, was the candidate of the far right. But like Goldwater, Torres was buried in his opponent's landslide.

Of course, the outcome — more predictable than in the U.S. — was far more lopsided. The last election was also one of the most quiet in Mexico's turbulent history. The violence of the revolution has been a long time cooling off.

But Mexico's politicians have now put their pistols down, shooting off nothing more dangerous than fireworks during an election campaign — another sign of the moderation and maturity of modern Mexico. Except for a vocal minority on the far left, Gringo-hating is not as popular as a few years ago. Less frequently do politicians repeat the saying of former President Porfirio Diaz (1877-1911): "Pobre Mexico, tan lejos de Dios, tan cerca de Los Estados Unidos del Norte America. (Poor Mexico, so far from God and so close to the United States.)"

President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz is more typical of the mood today: a firm friend of the United States who expects and de-

The World Today

Human Reasoning vs. Computers

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Founding Fathers, especially Thomas Jefferson, would be amazed; in fact, they probably would be shuddering.

Jefferson, an exemplar of 18th century enlightenment, was a man who believed human reason, if rightfully applied, could solve great social and political problems.

What would he find today? Statesmen beginning to abdicate reason's throne, beginning to turn their problems over to robots, to computers.

The trend, if it can be called one, was highlighted in Connecticut the other day. There the members of the state legislature were faced with what might seem a relatively simple problem, though one of immense importance.

The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled state legislative districts must be equal in population so far as practicable. This requires much revamping of most state legislatures.

In Connecticut, the Democrats control one house and the Republicans the other. They were unable to sit down, reason together and come up with a solution.

The deadlock got so bad the Nov. 3 election for the legislature was canceled. The old assembly is holding over.

A three-judge federal court, which has taken a great interest in the subject, finally appointed a special master to come up with a reapportionment plan in case the legislature continues to fail.

Who is the special master? Morris S. Davis, director of the Yale University Computer Center. His robots are green on the problem of reapportionment; they have been laboring hitherto on such subjects as linguistics and astronomy. But Davis expresses confidence they will meet this new challenge.

While Jefferson probably would shake his head over the failure of men to reason together, he would be vastly interested in computers. He was a great gadgeteer himself, an inventor.

He would recognize at once that computers are only a sort of extension of the human brain. They cannot do anything the brain cannot do, only they can do it faster. Their output is only as good as the material fed into their maw.

Computer men have an adage: "Garbage in, garbage out."

Special master Davis does not intend to feed any garbage in. "We hope," he said, "that we will be able to deliver an objective, nonpartisan system by approaching the problem as one of mathematics, rather than politics."

Suggestions have been made in other states, too, that computers rush to the aid of statesmen.

Speaking about New York, an official of the National Municipal League said: "There is no reason why in the state of New York a system of compact, contiguous districts, well balanced in population, cannot be set up within even a week's time."

"All it needs is people with a thorough knowledge of the process, technical help, computers and a conscience."

Conscience is, of course, exactly what computers lack: they have no emotions, no sense of compassion.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Prostatic Troubles May Not Always Mean Cancer

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Q — Our doctor says my husband has a severe prostate condition. Can this be cured? He is only 42. Isn't this young for a man to have prostate trouble? Could it be cancer?

A — There are several kinds of prostate trouble. Prostatic cancer is rare before the age of 40, but may occur after that age. Benign enlargement of the prostate usually occurs in the 60s. If your husband has cancer of the prostate I'm sure your doctor would have told you so and would have advised operation.

Various types of prostatic infection may occur in adults of any age. In some cases, the treatment is long and tedious and a complete cure is difficult.

Q — What is spondylolisthesis? What could cause it? Will an operation help?

A — In spondylolisthesis, one of the vertebrae of the lower back is defective and is displaced forward. The condition is congenital, but usually does not become noticeable until puberty. It is more common in girls than in boys. The victim usually tires easily and may complain of low back pain. She may also develop a cautious gait to minimize the discomfort. The only treatment is surgical correction, and the best results are obtained when the condition is recognized early and the operation is not delayed.

Q — What does "sedimentation rate" mean?

A — The sedimentation rate measures how fast the red blood cells settle to the bottom of a tube of blood. In persons with rheumatic fever and rheumatic arthritis, the rate is faster than normal. This is of value in determining whether the infections process is still active or is abating.

Q — My doctor has been giving me Sandril for more than a year. Is it habit-forming? What is it for? Are there any side effects?

A — Sandril is a trade name for reserpine, which is one of the tranquilizers derived from the plant Rauwolfia serpentina. It is widely used to reduce blood pressure. It is not habit-forming. It may cause a flare-up of a healed peptic ulcer in large doses. Other side effects include nasal stuffiness, nose bleeding, easy fatigability and a skin rash. Your doctor will observe you for these or other possible side effects and adjust your dose to meet your individual needs.

Q — Can stones in the salivary gland cause cancer? Is there any medicine that will prevent such stones from forming?

A — Salivary stones do not turn to cancer. I know of no drug that will dissolve or prevent them.

Polly's Pointers

Curlers --- and Sleep, Too

By POLLY CRAMER,

DEAR POLLY—Recently I found myself forced to sleep with my hair done up on rollers. Not looking forward to the headache I would probably get, I used my son's plastic inflatable swimming toy, the type shaped like a tube with a hole in the center. My head, rollers and all, rested where the hole is and my neck rested comfortably on one side of the plastic tube.—C.

DEAR POLLY—When my hair must be set quickly, I roll it up dry and then let the steam spray from the vaporizer penetrate each roll. This lightly dampens the hair. In 15 minutes it is dry and ready to comb out. It does not leave the hair sticky as hair spray often does. This is especially good for housewives who do not have hair dryers.—MRS. L. B. DEAR POLLY—Teaching 2 and 3-year-olds to wash their own faces is much easier if you hang a special mirror in the bathroom at the right height for them. Then they can tell when they fail to get off all the jelly.

Every so often my small son and I take an hour or so to clean and sort out his toy chest. I feel it is important to let the child help. Children are most pleased if you consult them on a chore of this kind.

They are encouraged to take better care of their toys.

We remove and put in a special box all toys that are outgrown or seldom used. They are put in the attic to be brought out later. The broken toys and odd parts such as wheels, strings, arms, legs and so on are put together in another bag or box, easily accessible for dad to use for repairs on other toys.

Just before Christmas we get out these toys, sort out the ones my son would like to keep and those toys we will give to needy children. Toys that can be fixed are repaired with the accumulated odds and ends.—AN AVID READER

We the Women

Parents: Show Wisdom

By Ruth Millett
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The little boy was old enough to know better than to smear green paint all over a neighbor's car port — but not old enough to clean up the mess.

So what did his father do? He put on old clothes, got everything he needed to do the job, and took his young son along to the neighbor's house.

After seeing to it that the boy admitted he had done the "painting" and made his apology, the father set to work getting the paint off.

"You stay right with me, son," he told the little boy. "I want you to know just how hard I am going to have to work to set right what you've done."

I doubt very much that when he is a teen-ager that small boy will drive around smashing in mailboxes, breaking post lights, littering yards with paper, breaking windows in school buildings, and so on "for kicks." Why? Because his father taught the child when he was only 5 that damaging someone else's property is a serious matter.

And his father also taught him, by making him watch the hard work his mischief made necessary, that the end result of defacing or destroying property is hard work for somebody.

We wouldn't have so much teen-age vandalism if all parents took the first opportunity to teach their young children what this father bothered to teach his 5-year-old.

It would have been easier for the father to have said (as so many parents do handle such matters) "Just have it taken care of and send me the bill." But that wouldn't have taught his young son anything at all.

Dialogue from Washington

By VERA CLAY

This country does not owe anybody apologies for allowing the Belgian paratroopers to use our twelve U.S. Air Force C 130 transport planes.

Presumably, we live in a semi-civilized world. When people of any nation start behaving like cannibals, regardless of race, color or creed, it is obligatory that someone wield a big stick. If not, we can be sure that Africans and Asians and Europeans, too, in fact, almost any nation, will take advantage and do whatever it pleases.

The United States did not walk into the Congo with military teeth bared. We came in at the invitation of the Tshombe government against the rebels; we advised the United Nations exactly what we planned to do and we have so advised everyone, according to sources at the Department of State, that we plan to withdraw as soon as our "humanitarian" obligation is fulfilled.

When the hostages are properly released and we are sure no more innocent blood will be shed, we plan to evacuate our planes with the Belgian troops.

There are times in the course of history when the United States worries too much about world opinion. Today, we always are on guard that the so-called neutral nations will criticize us for taking steps which they might consider borderline against neutrality.

It is foolhardy for us to weigh our actions against this kind of so-called world opinion. Note that it was the Chinese and Russians who immediately condemned us for going in "militaristically" and for ulterior motives. We can expect this kind of Communist backstabbing at all times. Communists have short memories of Russia's aggression against little Finland 25 years ago after the Reds had signed a non-aggression treaty with Germany's Hitler for self protection while they made military excursions into Finland.

It will be a poor day in our lives when we, who constantly talk of freedom of life and thought, allow anybody in the world to get away with plain outright murder, for no reason at all.

Whether it be a Hitler or African rebels, we do not approve of wholesale killing and historically we always stand up to it. Let's hope we never change our spots and sit back and let things like this just happen — by default.

Johnson to Wield Gold-Plated Spade

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will wield the gold-plated spade that broke ground for the Jefferson and Lincoln memorials when he breaks ground Wednesday for Washington's John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

Sen.-elect Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., will represent the family of the late president. Portions of Kennedy's speeches and his favorite passage from Shakespeare will be read by actor Jason Robards Jr. and Sir John Gielgud.

Mink Coats Stolen From Country Club

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Seven mink coats and a man's overcoat valued at about $16,200 were reported stolen Sunday night at the Indian Hills Country Club in suburban Prairie Village, Kan.

Police said the garments were taken from a coat room in the lobby of the club while about 75 persons were attending a dinner.

matter of fact

Coffee is associated with our national independence. The first license to sell coffee in the colonies was issued to a Dorothy Jones of Boston in 1670. The Merchants' Coffeehouse, established in New York in 1737, is said by some authorities to have been the "birthplace of the American Union."

Police Reports

Two youths were picked up by police Sunday in connection with the stealing of two snow tires from the Schreiner Service Station, 2701 West Broadway, early last Friday. Charges of petit larceny were dismissed in Police Court Monday morning, however, on request of the complaining witness.

The youths were identified as Gary J. Yancey, 17, 1421 South Carr; and Gary Eugene Williams, 2401 Albert Lee.

The tires, valued at $27.90, were recovered by police in a cattle barn on the State Fairgrounds.

Fires In City

Fire, of undetermined origin, destroyed a small vacant house at 318 East 24th Street, and did considerable damage to the residence of John L. Riley, 310 East 24th, to the west of the structure and some damage to the residence of Walker G. Paxton, to the east, 320 East 24th. The vacant house is owned by Paxton.

When firemen arrived on the scene the center house was engulfed in flames, the interior gutted, and the roof caved in. The fire had also spread to the east side of the Riley residence and to a portion of the west side of the Paxton home.

Assistant Fire Chief Willis Jabas who resides at 24th and Kentucky, arrived at the scene shortly before fire companies. The Rileys were just emerging from their home when he arrived.

The fire alarm was received at 2 o'clock and two minutes later a second alarm was turned in but firemen were already on their way to the fire. The fire was brought under control by 2:30 o'clock.

Damage was estimated by firemen at $4,000 to the vacant residence at 318 East 24th. Pax-

Broyles-Spellmeyer Vows Traded

Before the altar of United Church of Christ, Miss Linda Kay Broyles, niece of Mr. and Mrs. John F. England, 412 North Grand, became the bride of Mr. Garry Bob Spellmeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Spellmeyer, 2501 South Ohio, at seven o'clock Saturday evening, Nov. 7.

The Rev. Marvin G. Albright, pastor, read the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. H. H. Knight played traditional wedding selections.

Given in marriage by Mr. Jack R. Peace, the bride wore a street length dress of orchid nylon over orchid satin. Her accessories were white and her only jewelry was a single strand of tiny pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a large orchid.

Miss Joyce Strout lighted candles, the only light used in the sanctuary for the ceremony.

Maid of honor was Miss Jackie Young, cousin of the bride. Her dress was of pale yellow lace over yellow chiffon. Her flowers were also white roses.

Mr. Jerry Young, cousin of the bride, was best man.

The mother of the bridegroom wore a two piece brown lace suit and accessories of white.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored at a reception in the church basement.

Three tables were arranged in a half-circle. The two end tables were covered with white and the center table, which held the four tiered wedding cake, highlighted with a miniature bridal couple, was covered with white lace over orchid. Mrs. Joyce Shull and Mrs. Helen Peace served refreshments to approximately 50 guests.

The bride is employed by the J. A. Lamy Manufacturing Company. The bridegroom is employed by Pittsburgh Corning.

The couple is at home at 1720 South Ohio.

NFL Roundup

Browns Nearing Playoff for Title

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's scrambling defense has tied Jimmy Brown in the scoring column and has moved the Browns to within one game of playing Baltimore for the National Football League championship.

The defense scored three touchdowns in the first half Sunday, triggering Cleveland to a 38-24 victory over Philadelphia. A Cleveland triumph or a tie against St. Louis next Sunday would give the Browns their first Eastern Conference Crown since 1957.

Brown, the league's leading rusher, needed one touchdown to tie Don Hutson's NFL career record of 105 but failed to get it. That left him with eight for the season, the same number the defense now has tallied.

The Browns barely had finished their warmups when they had their first touchdown.

Philadelphia's Tim Brown bobbled the opening kickoff on his 14-yard line, and the ball bounced back into the end zone where Roger Shoals fell on it 18 seconds after the start of the game.

In the second quarter, rookie Sid Williams burst through the Eagle line and blocked Sam Baker's punt at the two. He then fell on the ball in the end zone for Cleveland's second touchdown.

In other games, St. Louis nipped Pittsburgh 21-20, Baltimore defeated San Francisco 14-3, Green Bay walloped Dallas 45-21, Minnesota whipped Los Angeles 34-13 and Washington dumped New York 36-21.

St. Louis, trailing 20-7 in the fourth quarter, halted a 13-game losing streak in Pittsburgh, winning its first game there since 1948.

Pat Fischer climaxed the Cardinals' comeback by racing 49 yards with John Henry Johnson's fumble late in the period.

Baltimore, which clinched the Western title last week, won its 11th straight game, and Lenny Moore tallied a touchdown in his 15th consecutive contest. Moore smashed across from the two after Lou Michaels had recovered John Brodie's fumble on the previous play.

Henry Jordan ran 60 yards with a fumble, and Loni Alldridge scored from 29 yards out with a loose ball for two Green Bay touchdowns. Bart Starr passed for three others and scored a fourth himself. Dallas never led in the game.

Minnesota built a commanding 17-3 lead in the first half against the Rams. Fran Tarkenton threw touchdown passes of 15 yards to Paul Flatley and 13 yards to Bill Brown while Fred Cox booted a 16-yard field goal.

Washington's Sonny Jurgensen increased his league-leading touchdown pass total to 24 with four against the Giants, two to Bobby Mitchell. Rookie Paul Krause set a league record by intercepting at least one pass in his seventh straight game. He grabbed two New York aeriels.

Battle Lines Drawn For Prize Drafts

NEW YORK (AP) — The battle lines are drawn and the $5-million war is on between the National Football League and the American League for Dick Butkus, Gale Sayers, Steve DeLong, Jack Snow, Joe Namath and the other prize collegians drafted over the weekend.

With 22 clubs involved—14 in the NFL and eight in the AFL—backed by television millions, it is not unreasonable to expect that each will go for $250,000 to sign the campus heroes.

The NFL struggled from 9 a.m. Saturday morning until 12:10 p.m. Sunday in a record 27-hour, 10-minute draft that covered 20 rounds and 280 players. Most of the same men were picked by the AFL in their 16-hour, 40-minute draft that ran from 8 a.m. Saturday to 12:40 a.m. Sunday.

The entire draft was conducted by telephone with a club representative in New York taking instructions from the home office.

Butkus, the fine linebacker from Illinois, can sift out offers from the Chicago Bears of the NFL and the Denver Broncos of the AFL. DeLong, the 243-pound Tennessee lineman, was a first-round pick of the Bears and San Diego. Sayers, Kansas back, is a prize for the Bears or Kansas City. Elkins, the Baylor pass catcher, is up for grabs between Houston and the Green Bay Packers.

Namath, selected on the first round by the St. Louis Cards and New York Jets, can't sign until after the Orange Bowl game with Texas. Snow, the batterymate of Notre Dame's John Huerte, was Minnesota's No. 1 pick and San Diego's seventh.

Oakland signed Harry Schuh, Memphis State tackle, its first-round pick and Buffalo got its No. 1 draft, Jim Davidson, Ohio State tackle.

Detroit grabbed two first-round AFL picks, signing both Tom Nowatzke, Indiana fullback, and Jerry Rush, Michigan State tackle. The Jets lost Nowatzke and Boston had picked Rush.

The New York Giants, desperate for a running back, passed up Butkus and took Tucker Frederickson, Auburn back, as the NFL's No. 1 selection. The Giants signed him and also drafted Chuck Mercein, Yale fullback, Bob Timberlake, quarterback of Michigan's Rose Bowl team; and Henry Carr, the Olympic sprint champion from Arizona State.

In addition to Frederickson, other first-round NFL choices signed were Clarence Williams, Washington halfback and defensive ace (Los Angeles) and Mike Curtis, Duke fullback and linebacker (Baltimore).

Craig Morton, the California quarterback who has been called the best prospect in the nation, was drafted first by the Dallas Cowboys but didn't go until the 10th round in the AFL when Oakland picked him. Huerte, the Heisman Trophy winner, was selected No. 2 by the Jets and in the sixth round by Philadelphia's Joe Kuharich, an ex-Notre Dame coach.

Among the signings were Tom Myers, Northwestern quarterback by Detroit; Archie Sutton, Illinois tackle, by Minnesota; Vern Biggs, Jackson State defensive end by the Jets; Gus Otto, Missouri fullback, and Rich Zecker, Utah State tackle, both by Oakland.

Oliva Hot Property In Baseball

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Tony Oliva, the 1964 American League Rookie of the Year, came within an eyelash of returning to his native Cuba a few weeks after he reached this country in 1961.

If he had, he might be swinging at pitches thrown by Fidel Castro instead of being a league batting champion and one of the hottest baseball properties in the United States.

Oliva came to America in the spring of 1961, using his brother's passport to sneak out of Cuba.

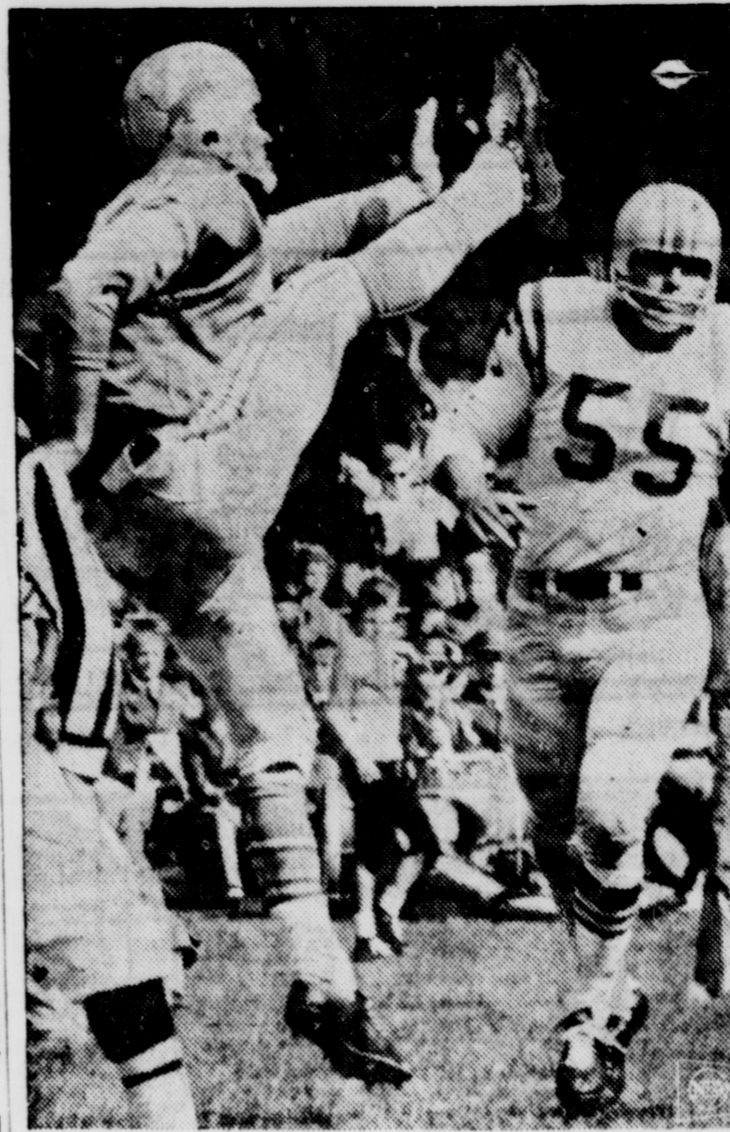

He went to a Minnesota Twins' tryout camp in Florida, but was not kept by the Twins.

Disheartened and not knowing where to go, he decided he had best go back home to his family in Cuba.

But first the gangling 19-year-old went to Charlotte, N.C., to visit a fellow Cuban. He tried out with the Hornets — then of the Sally League.

The rest is in the record books. Oliva went to Wytheville in the Appalachian Rookie League, where he hit .410 to lead all baseball. In 1962 he had a .350 mark at Charlotte, barely missing the league championship, and in 1963 he hit .304 after a horrible start at Dallas-Fort Worth in the Pacific Coast League.

Oliva led the A. L. in 1964 with a .323 mark, and had 32 home runs and 95 runs batted in. Named with Oliva was Richie Allen, selected as National League Rookie of the Year. Allen hit .318 for Philadelphia.

ALIVE AND KICKING—Yale Lary, of the Detroit Lions, was the leading punter in the National Football League last year. Showing his old form, he has been leading the league in booting the ball again this season.

Oklahoma State, Kansas Open Cage Schedule

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Kansas and Oklahoma State, two of the tri-favorites in the coming Big Eight basketball title race, open the season on the road Tuesday night. Kansas State, defending champion and the other favorite, opens at home Wednesday night.

In the four lid-lifters Tuesday night, Kansas plays at Arkansas, Oklahoma State at Southern Illinois, Iowa State at State College of Iowa, and Denver at Colorado.

K-State's game with Creighton opens a four-game home stand for the Wildcats.

This week's schedule includes 18 non-conference games, most of them against strong opponents.

On Friday, Seattle plays at Oklahoma and Colorado opens its two-night stand in the Denver tournament ending Saturday. In other games Saturday, Arkansas plays at Missouri, Purdue at Nebraska, Minnesota at Iowa State, Indiana at Kansas State, Regis at Oklahoma State and Northwestern at Kansas.

300 Cuban Exiles Fighting In Congo

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — About 300 Cuban exiles are fighting Peking-backed rebels in the Congo, informed sources say.

"They might be called mercenaries since they receive pay for their services, but actually they are training for forthcoming warfare (against Fidel Castro) in Cuba," said one exile.

It's that time of the year and we must button up our overcoat for the weekdays, but we'll be open weekends with big pictures and big stars. See you Friday. Weekdays see a fine movie indoors at the Fox!

Cincy Heads Four-Game Cage Slate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cincinnati's game at George Washington, giving maybe a slight inkling of what Ed Jucker's club may do this season, heads a four-game opening schedule Tuesday night in Missouri Valley Basketball.

In other games Tuesday, Northern Michigan plays at Bradley, Washburn at Drake, and North Dakota State at St. Louis.

Jucker feels that 6-8 Ron Krick, back in the lineup after two shoulder operations, and 6-6 junior Don Rolles, are the key men for Cincy, which fell to fourth place last year after dominating the title for several years.

Wichita, co-champion with Drake last year, opens against Long Beach State at Wichita Saturday night. All America Dave Stallworth leads Wichita.

Louisville, a new member which will compete for the title this year, opens the season against Georgetown at Louisville Wednesday.

The 16-game schedule for the week continues with Hardin-Simmons at North Texas and St. Louis at Ohio State Thursday; Minnesota at Drake, Niagara at Tulsa and North Dakota at Bradley Friday.

Wichita's opener and Miami of Ohio vs. Cincinnati at Cincinnati Gardens are the top games Saturday. The card that day also includes Louisville at Marquette, North Texas at Trinity, Tex., Illinois at St. Louis and Seattle at Tulsa.

The Valley title race is even more confusing and wide open, because Stallworth plays only the first semester. His final game is Jan. 30. He'll play 16 games, but only six in the league. Wichita must play its last eight Valley games without him.

Bradley's title hopes suffered a bad blow with the loss of 6-foot-9 Joe Strawder through low grades.

PTA Council In November Meeting

Sedalia PTA Council met last Thursday at the First Baptist Church, with Mrs. Jake Summers, president, presiding.

Mrs. Summers recognized the month of November as being a very important month, Nov. 1-7 being National Children's Book Week; Nov. 8-14 being American Education Week; Nov. 11, Veteran's Day; and Nov. 26, being Thanksgiving.

The month of November is also National PTA Magazine Week and Mrs. Summers urged all chairmen to strive to reach the established goal in the PTA magazine sales.

Since the American Legion sponsors the American Education Week, a flag drill and pledge to the American Flag was presented by three members of the local American Legion group.

Mrs. Ed Worley led the group in singing "America."

The devotional, "The Real Reason for Hospitality," was given by Mrs. Dean Morton of Horace Mann School. Various Bible Scriptures were given as reference.

Mrs. Paul Dey, Horace Mann School, was in charge of the ice breaker.

Mrs. Wilbur Mosier had prepared clever and original name tags which were presented to each member on arrival.

Mrs. James Shull read the minutes of the last meeting, and they were approved.

Mrs. Grant Cox, treasurer, gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Thomas Hampton, Jefferson School, gave a brief report on the recent School Board Meeting attended by representatives of Jefferson School.

Roll Call was taken by Mrs. Ernest Swearingen and rules in the attendance contest were again explained.

Mrs. Guy M. Snyder, publicity chairman, thanked members of the Heber Hunt School for presenting the radio program the last of October and explained the radio program sponsored by the local PTA council.

A PTA publication table, was on display and it was explained that they are to supply program material and any other PTA material needed.
